PETITION. Of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company for an amendment of the insurance law, passed las

The Committee of the Whole proceeded to the discussion of the bill making the annual appropriations for the expanses of the government.

The appropriation for printing elicited a lengthy debate. It was urged that there had been printed by debate. It was urged that there had been printed by order of the Assembly, volume upon volume of the Documentary History, and that the large sums expended for printing were for such documents as were not necessarily connected with the business of legislation.

Mr. Whilman said a law ought to be passed that no such printing should be ordered.

The appropriation recommended by the committee, of $10.000 for the support of the Institution for the Blind, in the city of New York was adopted by the Senate.

Mr. Mosoan explained that the institution had not, during the last year, asked anything of the Legislature.

The several items for the New York Hospital, $22,500; Prince street Orphan Asylum, $500; New York Orphan Asylum, $500; Brooklyn City Dispensary, $500; for support of the purils in the Deaf and Dumb Institution in New York, $20,800; for the support of the ninety-six pupils in the Institution for the Blind, $12,480; for Deaf and Dumb Institution in New York, $20,800; for the support of the ninety-six pupils in the Institution for the Blind, $12,480; for Deaf and Dumb Institution, $5000—were adopted without debate.

The following section elicited an animated discussion:—

pupils in the Institution for the Blind, $12,489; for Deaf and Dumb Institution, $5,600—were adopted without debate.

The following section elicited an animated discussion:—For the support of the foreign poor within this State, $20,000, to be divided by the Comptreller, and paid over to the treasurers of the different counties, in proportion to the number of such poor within the respective counties of this State, to be ascertained by the reports of the boards of supervisors of said counties; and returns to be attended by the chairman and clerk of each board respectively.

This drew out a long debate, which involved the question, to some extent, of city and country, as to which built up the other.

Mr Cannott, said he believed the State had absolutely appropriated to the New York hospitals, since their foundation, one million of dollars.

Mr. Williams argued that the new general school law in the city of New York unjustly taxed them $100,000. It had been forced upon the city; for what could four Sentors do against twenty-eight?

Mr. Staxrox said he had coensidered that all the differences between city and country were compromised at the Astor House dinner.

The committee refused to strike out the appropriation.

Mr. Chollers offered an amendment appropriating tion.

Mr. Chollies effered an amendment appropriating $5.000 to the Industrial Temperance Home of New York.

The committee rose, and the Senate took a recess. The bill modifying and ameliorating the law respecting capital punishment, was referred to the Committee of the Winde; and on motion of Mr. Williams, the committee were discharged, and the bill ordered to a third reading.

On the second ballot the names of Lloyd, Brower, and Butler were withdrawn; and on the fifth ballot Mr. Coyode was withdrawn by Mr. Cowan, of Westmoreland, and Mr. William M. Lloyd was re-nominated by Mr. Brotherline of Blaft.

The nomination was subsequently ratified unanimously by the Commention.

Mr. Stroom was called for and made a speech in which he returned thanks for his nomination. If elected, he pledged himself to devote the whole of his energies to the fulfillment of the duties of the office of Canal Commissioner, and to the promotion of the interests of the Commonwealth.

His remarks were received with great cheering.

After the nomination for Canal Commissioners was concluded, the following resolution was adopted:—

Resolved, That each delegate vote eige rect for ave candidates for the Supreme Bench.

Dr. Prenylracura hoped that the gentlemen present would give all the information in their power in relation to the nomination of judges, in order that the Convention might vote knowingly and understandingly.

These C. Stere then moved that the Convention preceed to the nomination of five candidates for Judges of the Supreme Court, which was agreed to.

Mr. Hoffman, of Berks, submitted the following:—

Resolved, That in the relection of Judges of the Supreme Court, batty should find no place. In questions which vital years of the Supreme Bench by machinery and party motives, they will feel that they owe their places to the influence and partiality of one political party, in defiance of the efforts of the other, and the people will be apt to suspect them of showing their gratitude, if not their revenue, by partisan and personal judicial decisions—nor is it at all improbable that such asspicions will be realized.

The rending of the above was received with much diasatisfaction, and induced a sharp rambling discussion, which was finally declared out of order; when the Convention proceeded to the nomination of candidates for the Supreme Bench.

The franding to the show was received with much diasatisfaction expenses of the Kaffir war, nothing of importance had transpired in Parliament since its reassembling. The Lord Chancellor, in moving for this vote, expressed his satisfaction that the war did not appear likely to prove so serious as had been at first apprehended.

Mr. Ansenars observed that tirey and others had laid down salutary rules, and that colonies having a representative government should bear the expenses of their own desence and contended that such government, with such a constitution, eight to be given to the Cape, in order to prevent the recurrence of a similar demand upon the country.

der to prevent the recurrence of a similar demand upon the country.

Lord Joan Ressent stated that it was their own fault if colonists at the Cape had not their own representative constitution, but do not think that any kind of natives government would enable them to defend the malives securely again; the lieffer and other tribes. This, how-ever, was not the question before the Home. The ques-tion was, whether they were prepared to permit the emi-grants, whom they had encouraged to the country, to be every wered and be desireyed without rendering their assistance.

Are preserved and be descrived without reducing their assistance.

Mr. Rican could not give his sanction to this vote, because it went to encourage rubbery and aggression.

Ma. Hawas, at some length, defended the policy pursued by government in relation to the Kaffirs, from the attack of Mr. Hume.

Mr. Banari complained that under the present system the colonies had no interest in a speedy termination of the war in which they were engaged.

Ms. Leavierness, Lenn John Ricesens, and others, defended the vote and the conduct of the government generally.
